[7/3/2010 4:47:29 PM] jarodzz: learning from last session, I tried about 3 minutes with this tool, then I move on to help.

Again, this tool is not quite handy without help info, at first I've no idea why I need it for.

Weekend Testing No.41 Chat Transcript

Spending 7 minutes on Help, that's 10 minutes overall getting hands on.

I get a basic idea how this things work.

So I spend the next 20 min on exploratoring its core function, src dir, dest dir, copy/move, change name.

Then next 20 min on config, next 20 on usability.

The first time I use my own usability heuristic: easy to learn/remember/work with/understand mistake/please

It's quite handy to evaluate if a layout works fine or a function is properly executed.

Next time, I would try to bring in more heurstic on function tests.

[7/3/2010 4:47:38 PM] jarodzz: here my experience goes

[7/3/2010 4:48:23 PM] Santhosh S Tuppad: @jarodzz, Cool split up and sharing your story.

[7/3/2010 4:48:57 PM] Himanshu Patel: @jarodzz , good explanation

[7/3/2010 4:49:06 PM] jarodzz: to all, for tools with not much usability, try help page first :)

[7/3/2010 4:49:23 PM] Santhosh S Tuppad: Test Heuristics Cheat Sheet :
<http://testobsessed.com/wordpress/wp-content/uploads/2007/02/testheuristicscheatsheetv1.pdf> [ For those who were not aware of this ].

[7/3/2010 4:49:36 PM] Santhosh S Tuppad: @jarodzz, That was a good tip.

[7/3/2010 4:50:22 PM] jarodzz: and for usability test, try my heuristic list: easy to learn/remember/work with/understand mistake/please. LMWUP.

[7/3/2010 4:50:36 PM] jarodzz: it's all about easy...

[7/3/2010 4:50:39 PM] Santhosh S Tuppad: Ah, nice mnemonic.

[7/3/2010 4:50:44 PM] Santhosh S Tuppad: (y)

[7/3/2010 4:52:41 PM] jarodzz: 1 got 1. does it bother you guys, when you click setup, this tool gets started

[7/3/2010 4:52:58 PM] jarodzz: that's really out of my expectation

[7/3/2010 4:53:21 PM] Santhosh S Tuppada: @jarodzz, Yes. It doesn't ask where to install and not much options.

[7/3/2010 4:53:57 PM] Santhosh S Tuppada: @jarodzz, Most of the end-users look at Desktop for newly installed applications but this product doesn't has it on Desktop nor there is an option for making it visible on Desktop. It is available from Start.

[7/3/2010 4:53:58 PM] Nimesh Prajapati: does it have "Undo" functionality???

[7/3/2010 4:53:59 PM] jarodzz: and 1 suggestion, what do u think if we temporarily re-test the tools we tested before

[7/3/2010 4:54:08 PM] Santhosh S Tuppada: @Nimesh, You mean rename undo functionality?

[7/3/2010 4:54:17 PM] jarodzz: no, i filed 1 issue for it

[7/3/2010 4:54:28 PM] Santhosh S Tuppada: @jarodzz, :)

[7/3/2010 4:54:46 PM] jarodzz: that's how to judge what we learn, and how we apply what we learn

[7/3/2010 4:55:03 PM] Santhosh S Tuppada: @jarodzz, Exactly!

[7/3/2010 4:55:33 PM] jarodzz: I some times find that: re-write a bug description, re-factor a automation scripts , I learn more from those re-work, than chasing new methods

[7/3/2010 4:56:18 PM] Santhosh S Tuppada: @jarodzz, :)

[7/3/2010 4:56:28 PM] Santhosh S Tuppada: 04 minutes left and we wrap up this session.

[7/3/2010 4:56:29 PM] Himanshu Patel: yes because everytime we look at something, we can find some thing different in that which we could not last time

[7/3/2010 4:56:39 PM] Santhosh S Tuppada: @Himanshu, Right.
